DANISH MERCHANT FINED £8,000.

HOW ANGLO-DANISH GOODS AGREEMENT WORKS.

Another sentence of the Declaration Court of the Chamber of Commerce at Copenhagen against a Danish firm for sttemping to export British goods to Germany was: promulgated last month. The firm of Otto Madsan has to pay never declared that also would never breach of the "home consumption" clause contrary is proved, he asserts, by several in respect of a parcel of 750 sacks of coffee. The presmble of the sentence accentuates the fact that although the effort to export | Entente Powers, proposals well known to the coffee was made by one of the the Chancelleries of Europe.

Neither does the fact that the effort to war and until peace was concluded export the goods was not crowned with success make any difference in the decision. The "National Tidende" contains a telegram from Hjærring that the merchant Jorgen Storm, who was recently sentenced to a considerable fine on account of a similar offence declares that it is now utterly impossible for him to get goods from America. "The firms to whom he has sold the expected goods will therefore and him for not fulfilling his engagements.

It appears from a Reuter message that a confidential clerk of Madson's bought 750 sacks of coffee and signed the usual declaration for the Merchante' Guild, but transferred the coffee to a third party, who tried to re-export it. . The fine was double the value of the coffee plus 3.000 kroner. Still another merchant who tried to sell 60 casks of eocoa to Germany has been fined 19,168 kroper, says the Exchange. Public opinion in Denmark highly approves these heavy penalties.

The export of coffee from Sweden is prohibitod: says a Stockholm telegram. [Storm exported 15 tops of cuffee to Hamburg, and was fined £2,380.]

PREE DRINK BY LEGACY.

A JOVIAL BEQUEST TO THE

SAVAGE CLUB.

In the Chancery Division on February. before Mr Justice Neville, a summons was tried to determine the validity of a bequest to the Benevolent Fund of the Savage Club to provide drinks free to members. The testator, David Louis by his will, after appointing executors, and after bequeathing certain chattels to his friends is accordance with a memorandum attached to and forming part of his will, bequeathed £850 to the trustees for the time boing of the Benevolent Fund of the Savage Club-"to the intent that the income shall be devoted to the purposes set out in the second memorandum which will be found with this my will, but which is not to form part thereof, and I request that such memorandum be entered on the minutes of the said Benevolent Fund." The pecuniary legacies in full.

I have frequently noticed gloomy looks dispelled by the simple expression. Have a drink, old chap. Now I should is certified by a most remarkable collike to be able to say this to some brother | lection of unsolicited testimonials from Savages for ever, and therefore I have directed in my will that a sum to yield twenty six pounds's year be placed at the disposal of the Benevolent Fund for that

THE GERMAN TRADE OF SINGAPORE.

The Singapore Free Press says :--We must confess to having experienced. feeling of some satonishment, when reading the Hon ble Mr Darbishire's speech at the Chamber of Commerce, to see that what may now be termed "enemy" trade bulks so very lightly in the total overturn of the Colony. There are probably few people who realised that the German and Austrian trade was if not negligible, of such small proportions, as hardly to be considered. Bernhardi in one of his books has referred. to the Straits Settlements and although for the moment we are unable to turn up the reference the sense was a conviction of the great power wielded by German firms iere, and the huge business they did, get on examination that proves as the Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce has said to be only on a fiftieth of the imports and one twentieth of the exports, It is not of course possible to say exactly what other proportion of German or Austrian trade came in here from sources other than those countries themselves, but the amount in any ease would not be large and it may be accepted that two per cent of imports and five per cent of exports practically represented enemy trade with this Colony during the last pre-wir year namely 1913. A study of general trade figures ever a wide period in conjunc tion with these figures for 1913 cau es us to wooder where are all the triumphs of German trade about which we told ours iven for to many years. The German firms here made a great show their methods of attracting native cus om. the cheapmers of their goods and their painstaking ways of introducing the seg ode were continually being kept before us by them-mainly it would appear by ourselves and it is reasonable to question whether for a great many years past we have not dwen diligo tly solf-hypnotising ourselves. When Recount is taken of the abnormal efforts of German trade for a great number of years past to capture these markets the result is extraordinarily small. That is speaking of merchandise only, for the shipping position. is rather different, But I oking Lack over a series of years it is interesting to find how remarkably British tishe has progr seed. Whereas in the United Kingdom the proportion of Fersign to Imperial trade has varied but little in its figures of about 75 to 25 a totally diff rent tale is told so regards our con Colony. It is not nowible in the compass of these columns to deal in detail with the subject nor can account be taken of all the special circumstances affecting the returns such as the dollar fluctuations in the years past, the artificial position of the opium trade, the fixing of the currency and othe influences which all bore more or less on King Constantine) recalls that while trade conditions, but a general survey Greece has remained neutral she has proves beyond doubt that not only has lability of that development continuing foreign; trade relative'y diminished and unarrestod. 134,400 kroner, or about £8,000, for a any price depart from her neutrality. The Emperial trade there grown but there has been a remarkabledevelopment in trade with other Colonies and Dominions. Looking proposals made during the war to the

The country consequently has remained neutral despite various appeals of the two opposing groups of Powers, but there are two currents of opinion, the one auxious to enter struggle on the side of the Entente. other in favour of neutrality. No one in Greece has ever expressed the opinion that the country should take part in the war on the side of the Central Empires. Prince Nicholas energetically protests against the doubts which the Anglo-French Press has cast upon the good faith and sincerity of the King and Greek Government and upon the feelings of the Greek people towards the Allied troops. These suspicions, he says, are unjust and of less complete of direct entry of enemy very painful to Greece, and might have are influence on the sincere friendship Allied tariff re usations will add slightly which the Greek people and its King the business done here by our Allies. wish always to preserve for the nations business which will always be welcomed which assisted in the regeneration development has been in the direction Greece and to whom all Greece wishes a Imperial business and there seems a pro-

those same Powers on the side of whom figures in the 1886 to 1890 period were 43 to 73 in 1913 they were 213 to 175. An examination of the returns further shows But this condition was not accepted, such that the great increase has been in our promise being considered at the time trade with other British Colonies. Thus in imports this has grown from 38 millions to 235 millions and exports from millions to 121 millions. Consideration of the figures of the Foreign trade shows the further interesting facts that while German trade has increased, there has been a very moid development in our business with French Colonial possessions whils tately the expansion in Italian trade has been notable. Obviously the foreign figures have shown nothing like the elasticity of the Imperial figures, and a wide review the statistics can leave no other impression than that whilst German trade had be come an appreciable factor in our busi ness it had not shown that terrifying tendency towards swamping of Imperial trade which appeared at one time to be the general impression. I'm wining out of the German and Austrian business, whether that be accomplished by a prohibition more goods here after the war, or whather it be the result of the repressive infidences and beartily encouraged, but the real of undercutting in the markets of our To look at the matter from the most sordid point of view, surely it is not a matter of whether the stoppege of the enemy trade will damage our pockets or not! If the business is so trifling as the President of the Chamber of Commerce points out, no harm would be done to the trade in Mingapore if it were cut out altogether. We as a nation, are out to prevent the riper we had in our midst from ever becoming our trest sesin. Our Empire and our Allies are b'g enough, our raw material and gold sufficient, to supply whatever is required by the buying public of our allied actions. It is unthinkable that we before the oceans of blood ceased to run, can calmly consider, whether it would be inconvenient for us to stop enemy goods reaching our shores when we have crushed the enemy that threw. the world into the farnece of war The 2 per cent import and

THE SITUATION IN CHINA

Norwithstanding all the advice any intention of doing so. It is stated in a Shanghai contemporary that Mr TANG SHAO-YI is among those who have given counsel to President YUAN SHIH KAL Mr TANG is reported to have appealed to the President, by the old friendship so long existing between them, to resign avoid further bloodshed. Mr TANGS June 3. SHAO-YI tells President YUAN, further, that he has betrayed his oath to the constitution and has lost the confidence of the people We published about a week ago i telegram stating that a joint communication had been addressed by the representatives of seventeen provinces to the Foreign Ministers in Peking declaring their determination | be charged to the customer. not to recognise YUAN SHIH KAI as President of the Republic. The mail. brings a translation of the communication which, we note, was signed by 37 members, now in Shanghai, of the National Assembly. This Assembly it may be mentioned, consisted of about 600 members. How far the 37 members in Shanghai represent the nation on the question there is some room for doubt in the U. Rumjaho & Co... light of these figures. The communication refers to YUAN as the H. M. H. country should revert to a monarchical form of government and that he should become the first Emperor of a new dynasty: We see it stated that an interesting point of law has been raised by some Chinese to the effect that President YUAN cannot reinstate himself as president that position being elective. From moment that he was elected, or caused himself to be elected emperor. he, ipso facto, resigned the position of President, which thus becomes vacant and it is not for him to replace himself in that position. We do not know who in China is to settle this legal point. The probability is that being fixed at $500. YUAN SHIH KAI has quite as many supporters as he has enemies in China, and in any case, so long as the Army and Navy remain loyal to him he is not likely to doothe bidding of the thirty-sev in members of the National Assembly who have found a haven of refuge in Shanghai.

TRADE WITH THE ENEMY.

LONDON FIRM'S TRANSACTION WITH GERMAN FIRM AT SH NGHAL At the Mansion House on February 22nd

Harold Edwin Gee, of 57. Fenchurchstreet, was summoned before Alderman Sir William Treloar, for having traded with the enemy (1) by, on Aug. 23 proposing and agreeing to supply goods for Shanghai, who were persons of German nationality carrying on business in China commercial and financial contract and obligation with and for the benefit of that firm; and (3) by, on Sept. 23, attempting to supply goods for the benefit of the same firm. Mr. Curtis Bannett, who defended, said Mr Gee would elect to have the case decided by the alderman, and he pleaded

Mr Muir, for the prosecution, said the defendant was a member of the firm of Briggs, Abbott and Gee, export merchants Fouchurch-street. Mr Briggs's participa-tion in the firm seemed to have been purely financial one, and Mr Abbott had nothing to do with the expert part of the business, for which Mr Geo was sole! responsible. On Oct. 5 last four letters which had been intercepted in the course post by the Postsi Censor in the Chinese free port, were forwarded by His Majesty's Consul at Shanghai, to the fureign trading department of the Foreign Office, and a walrant was subsequently issued under the Trading with the Enemy Act authorising Mr. Campling, chartered accountant, to examine the books and documents of Briggs, Abbott and Gee. In May of last year Mesars Lud Voight and Co., a firm of Nielsen were made. German nationality, carrying on husiness in Shanghai, sent Briggs, Abbott and Geo. of whom they were customers, an order for forty cas-s of dyed mercerised pongee (Chinese silk), value £1,000. Mr Geo said justly there was nothing in the proclamation issued on June 25 to prevent the shipping of goods before July 20. Nineteen of the cases were sent, but Merers Lud Voight and Co. thought it right that credit should be given to a Chinese firm in Shanghai, and the goods were accordingly shipped to the Chinese firm, who paid for them.

On Aug. 5 Messra Lud Voight and Co. wrote, saying that they thought that on the whole the best plan would be to hand over was handed over to a British firm. was properly dealt with as an abandonment of the transaction between Mr Voight and Mr Gee, but Mr Voight wrote to the and Co. must be paid their commission on the transaction, which had been abandoned, as soon as the war was over. Mesars Snowman & Co.'s latest advices received from London dated 18th February, 1916 are as follows :-Referring to our last week's freight report dated 11th inst., Chartering business generally is still further restricted owing to our Government's new Order in Council

the effect of which neither Charterers nor

Owners are so far able to realise. The only effect it has had is to increase rates for neutral tonnage, which, in several ma kets, has been ab'e to command a very high rate of freight in leed. Far East. - Wi h the cassation of pressing Government enquiries from Saigon, these merkets, are easier, although tonnage remains very scarce, and Charterers have been u able to improve much on their last figures. Saigon Charterers are now indicating 190 shillings to 195 shillings, but Philippines are offering 220 shillings, with Shanghai at about 210 shillings. India. - Has been able to take advantage of some of the tonnage released by the Covernment in the Mediterranean, otherwise there is very little business to advise. Time Charter - We are inclined to think that the report of four steamers fixed for 5 years Transatlantic trading at 12 shillings is incorrect as we are unable to get same States, redelivery States, U. Goods Market Report says :-Business has been much upset by the leeling of uncertainty regarding the political situation- in the south, Kwangsi province having declared its intention to sever itself from the Empire if the monarchy movement is persisted in and the attitude of Kwang. tung is also considered to be most doubtful A tardy avowal by Poking of its intention to desist from the monarchy scheme may prove to have come too late to extinguish the flame of feeling in the south against Yuan Shi-kat. If the position of the one man, however, who has had the ability to hold the country together throughout recent difficult years, should be now jeopardised, there seems to be but faint hope of any settled administration that can bring the least likelihood of peace or security for some years to come. Meantime, as usual in times of doubt the holders of the purse strings in the interior pull them very tight, money stops circulating, and orders do not come for ward.
